BIOMEDICAL CAREER ADVANCEMENT PIPELINE PROGRAM

Summer Research Experience for High School Students at Wayne State University School of Medicine

Coming Summer 2020!

What is BCAP?

The Biomedical Career Advancement Program (BCAP) is a six-week summer research experience for youth interested in pursuing careers in health science.

Here is how being part of BCAP will benefit you!

- An amazing opportunity to explore STEM careers: Students will work alongside senior research/clinical faculty to explore research investigation in a highly enriched environment.
- Stipend: $1,500
- Program Activities:
  - Certified training: Students will receive training to conduct research at Wayne State University and serve as volunteers at the Detroit Medical Center
  - Advanced-level laboratory experiments: Students will learn to apply common laboratory techniques to understand human disease (polymerase chain reaction (PCR), gel electrophoresis, microscopy, pipetting, etc.)
  - Career Panels: Students will engage in open, honest dialogue with health-science students and professionals to gain first-hand information and practical advice on various career paths.
  - Professional development: Students will participate in activities to develop their writing and presentation skills
  - Networking: Students will meet like-minded individuals that are on the same career path and will be mentored by university faculty and graduate students

What are the program requirements?

- Work 30 hours each week on research project
- Attend weekly workshops and trainings
- Present research project at closing ceremony

Who is eligible for BCAP?

- Wayne County high school students (junior status)
- Personal statement: Interest in pursuing health science career
- Letter of Recommendations (2)
- Official transcript: GPA  $\geq 3.0$
